

How to find the right shade quickly and easily with MULTONA

1 Finding the colour code and colour name on your car

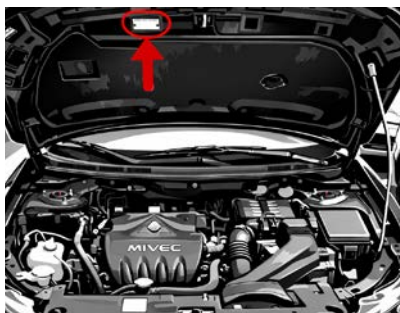

To find the correct MULTONA colour, you need to know your vehicle's original colour code. Depending on the manufacturer and model, this can be found in different places; listed below are the four most common locations where the colour code can be found.

Driver's door at the B-pillar

Passenger door at the B-pillar

Engine compartment

Boot

If you can't find anything in the relevant sections of your vehicle's manual, please contact the manufacturer directly or look online.
